

Supratarka is an organization which provides a global network where children can interact freely using a video communication system (video call).

Supratarka means "good understanding" or "intellect".

It is derived from Sanskrit which was widely used in India and South/South-East Asia.

Supratarka operates a trusted human network for interaction and connects schools and children who wish to communicate to each other.

Supratarka offers know-how with rich experiences of conducting interaction programs and supports actual communication between children.

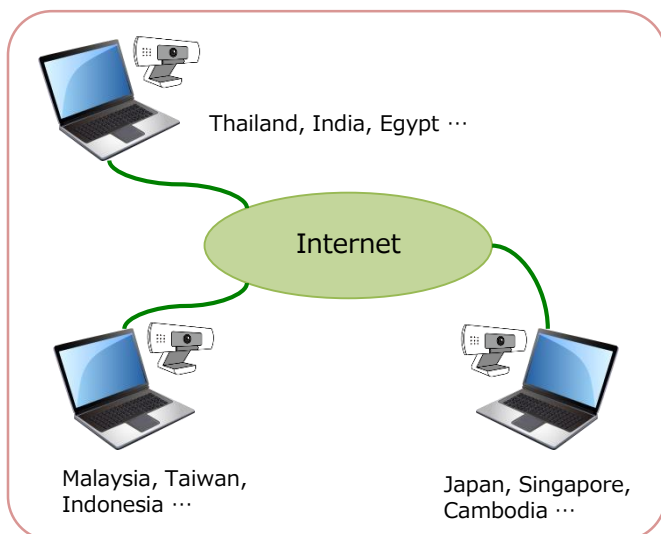

Towards World Peace

International Conference for High School Students 2020,

Organized by Supratarka

6 September 2020 via Zoom

- Through experiences of the threat of Corona virus, why do you think we need world peace?
- How do we develop world peace after the threat of Corona virus?

Supratarka expects children's global communication including history, culture and daily lives, as well as discussions on various themes using our communication network.
